The interior of the beautiful church was exquisitely adorned with multitudes of fall flowers. Golden vases on the Altar held brilliant red gladiolas and yellow chrysanthemums.

Following the religious services a luncheon was given honoring Reverend Garrett at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kiefer on Dunbar Avenue. Approximately 250 persons attended this affair.

The interior of the home had been artistically arranged with flowers done by Mrs. Howard Adams, and the exterior had an improvised outdoor patio, also the work of Mrs. Adams. Individual tables were set up on this outdoor patio for the luncheon guests.

Buffet tables holding many gour- met dishes prepared by women of the church for the luncheon were set up in the dining room, the indoor patio and out of doors.

A special table was set in the living room for the Bishop, Rev. Garrett, Rev. Johnson, and family of Mr. Garrett, as well as other dignitaries of the Church. Due to the serious illness of his father, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Rector were unable to be present at the party which they hosted Tuesday evening at their Waveland Beach home, honoring Rev. Latimer Garrett and visiting clergy on the eve of the Ordination of Mr. Garrett on Wednesday.

Reverend and Mrs. Charles Johnson substituted as hosts for the Rectors and received their guests. The delightful dinner was in the form of a buffet with tem- pering and delicious food to please the tastes of all invited. About fifty persons were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Rector flew to Detroit to be with the senior Mr. Rector.

Mrs. H. H. Shattuck was elected to serve as a member of the Commission on Education from the society.

Spearheaded by the general co-chairman, Mrs. John Auderer, the many committees worked with a diligence heretofore unmatched.

The K. C. Hall where the supper was held was filled to over- flowing with the crowds who enjoyed the excellently prepared food cooked by women of the organization, and the dining area was most attractive with nicely laid tables and floral arrangements.

Mr. A. J. Frey, Mr. John Auderer and Mr. Sam Blanchard, the latter of Natchez and Waveland, were more than generous in giving both time and material contributions to the event. All three men remained from their business for a couple of days to assist the ladies in readying for the supper at the hall.

The $100,000 currently raised will not be spent directly," Mr. Taylor said. "Instead, it will be invested and the annual income from the investment used for current Foundation projects."

With the new funds, the Foundation hopes to establish college scholarships, probably to begin on the Junior level. Such scholarships would help worthy 4-H and former 4-H members complete college work in cases where this might not otherwise be possible.

The additional funds also would permit the continued exchange of 4-H Club members between Mississippi and other parts of the Nation, as well as perpetuation of the International Farm Youth Exchange program.

St. Joseph Graduates Enter Convent; Choose St. Joseph, Charity Novitiate

Four S. J. A. graduates enter the religious life as postulants and are presently studying that way of life to know whether that is God's plan for them.

On September 8, Pam Crasto, Pat Horlock '57, and Ollie Morris '57, together with thirteen other girls in a scene of laughter and tears made the first and most difficult step in the pursuit of a religious vocation—the separation from home and loved ones.

These twentieth century modern maidens chose the three centuries old Sisters of St. Joseph for their division in the army of Christ. At the Novitiate, New Orleans they began immediately their schedule of classes, regular duties, adaptation to religious life and prayer. In keeping with the spirit of Congregation, they will aim for the charity and humility of Christ, their Model.

Inspired by the example of St. Vincent de Paul, Julie Blanchard '57 entered the Novitiate of the Daughters of Charity in St. Louis, Missouri. Like Pat, Ollie, and Pam, Julie follows a schedule where work, play, and prayer are a smooth, wholesome mixture.

The prayers of every S. J. A. will be with them that God may give them the grace to fulfill the obligations of their chosen vocation.

The most important of the American Legion Auxiliary's programs is the Rehabilitation of Veterans. This program includes the Christmas Gift Shop for hospitalized veterans, Volunteer Service at the Veterans Hospitals, the sale of poppies made by the veterans and many other miscellaneous services and funds rendered by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Captains were elected for each team by popular vote. Three teams, Linda Auder's "Ivy Leaguers", Francis Benske's "Yokums" and Mary Louise Peranich's "Bay Rebels" are tied for first place.

The Americanism program of the auxiliary includes all activities tending to perpetuate American ideals and to uphold the principles of American Democracy. One activity under the Americanism program is the Americanism Essay Contest sponsored by the county schools.

The Girls State program is an Americanism and Community Service program for the purpose of providing citizenship training for high school age girls.

Another major activity is the Community Service program—the unit donates to every Community fund drive and participates in many. The unit participates with other organizations in various community conditions.

The Junior Activities program for Juniors from birth to eighteen years is planned within the scope of their years and understanding.
